

33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time - November 16th, 2014

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ, many of us have been educated by religious sisters, at least those who are getting a little older including me. There were only a couple of sisters at my grade school and one or two in my high school in Davenport, Iowa, one sister tutored me when I was young and needed some extra help, and a couple of sisters taught us in the Seminary. I am grateful to all of them.

The stories I hear from my own family members and from so many demonstrate the great impact the sisters have had on our culture and society. Many people who are making things happen in our society were educated by religious sisters. Many people who have high moral standards and who live their faith were educated by religious sisters. We can't forget the brothers either, for example at DeLaSalle High School and many others schools as well!

The impact the consecrated religious have had on our culture goes far beyond education. Many hospitals were founded by religious sisters. For example Saint Francis Hospital in Shakopee has old pictures of the sisters on the wall, commemorating them and the history of the hospital.

Many men and women laid down their lives for Christ and were critical in making Catholic Education and our society what it is today. I would not claim to think we should go back in time, but we do need to be intentional about cultivating vocations from this parish.

The upcoming year is the Year of Consecrated Life. Many young people probably haven't even seen a religious sister, but the sisters and brothers are still out there. There is an opportunity for young women to attend the opening celebration for the Year of Consecrated life at the Saint Paul Seminary.

This event is for women, but God also calls young men to be religious brothers. They live in community, they pray together, they take vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience, and through these evangelical counsels, they are conformed to Jesus Christ.

We must help our young people to see and to find the 'yes' and not just the 'no.' Sure, a person who follows the path of consecrated life gives a lot of things up, but the prize is Jesus Christ and a life of authentic freedom, peace, joy, and adventure!

So my brothers and sisters, we are called to be good stewards of our gifts. Parents are called to this too, including even if God asks one of your children to follow Him into the consecrated life. This could potentially be difficult at first, but so very worth it.

Opening Celebration for the 2015 Year of Consecrated Life. Come and learn more about consecrated life and meet consecrated women from our Archdiocese!

Parish leadership has recently approved a number of necessary maintenance projects. Our operating budget is really just keeping the doors open, there is not extra money for large repairs. We will be taking money out of our parish savings account to pay for these projects. We are asking parishioners for donations to replenish the savings account.

Here is a list of the current projects and their costs:

Sidewalk replacement - $2,236.50
Replacement of flat roofs over basement bathrooms & south basement entrance - $11,250.00
Mold removal in parish basement - $1,755.00
Mold removal in school building - $600.00
Leaf guards for gutters on rectory - $620.00
Total cost of current needed repairs: 16,461.50
Donations to date – Thank You! 6,030.00
Balance 10,431.50

We are also in the process of identifying and prioritizing a number of other projects (solving our water problems is a big one). If you are able to contribute to the parish for these expenses, you can make your donation two different ways. In your current Sunday envelopes, on the left side of the envelope it reads Capital Improvement and Endowment Fund Offering. Simply circle Capital Improvement and then list the dollar amount you would like to contribute to the projects. You may also stop in the parish office and leave your donation with Lisa. As the donations begin to come in, the dollar amounts will be listed in the bulletin. If you have any questions please contact the parish office at 952-461-2403

Thank you from the Parish Leadership.

Thank you to everyone who has responded so quickly to the parish needs, through prayer, treasure and talent!
God Bless You!
