Essay Topic

Even if you have not experienced Catholic Education in your own schooling, please explain the importance a Catholic Education can make in the life of a student as they grow.

Catholic Education - Preparing students for this life and the next by Daniel Olesen

No one is born a doctor. No one is born a lawyer, a scientist, or an engineer. No one is born a master of their field. In the same way, no one is born holy. It is something to be learned. High achieving professionals of any discipline will tell you about the many years of training and experience they went through to get them where they are, and the attainment of spiritual greatness is no different. Without medical school, a doctor could never achieve the knowledge necessary to do their job. The same is true for Catholics and education in Catholicism.

If a doctor didn't go to school to learn how to do his job, how can he do it? In much the same way, a catholic must be taught to do his/her job as a catholic. The importance of being properly instructed in the faith is as important as being properly instructed as a doctor or any other profession.

In order to be good at anything, one must practice. To be good Catholics, we must learn. We must practice. Being educated in an environment inundated with hedonism and lifestyles absolutely contradictory to God, anyone can be lost in lies. Thus organized catholic education shows its merits. It provides a foundation for students to anchor their lives, and focuses them on the truth. It encourages practice in the doctrines of the faith and directs students toward God rather than something else.

Catholic education prepares us for life in many ways. In a very real way it prepares us for battle. You may have heard it said that we are at war – It's true. As Christians we are at war with the corrupted culture of the world and the corrupting lies of the enemy. These things are apparent in everyday life and are a constant danger. So as soldiers of Christ, we must train and prepare ourselves and our comrades as much as we can. A catholic education is a great way to strengthen your faith and train yourself as a warrior of God.

In brief, a catholic education is highly beneficial to a student. It directs them to the truth and gives them the ability to share it with the world. In public education, students must direct themselves. This is not to say that those who don't have the luxury of being enrolled in a catholic school are lost. They simply face a tougher challenge of defending the faith, which also has a way of building good soldiers of Christ. I have not experienced catholic schooling myself, but I can see its ability to prepare our children to be the strong catholic men and women we need.

Catholic Home Missions Appeal: Strengthening the Church at Home

Please help us strengthen the Church here in the U.S. by giving generously to the Catholic Home Missions Appeal this weekend. The Catholic Home Missions Appeal, which is a U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops effort, helps fund catechesis, seminarian education, lay ministry training and other pastoral programs in U.S. dioceses that are unable to provide by themselves. Currently, 45% of all U.S. dioceses receive some home mission support, including dioceses in Minnesota, due to priest shortages, parishioner poverty, unemployment, isolated and difficult terrain, religious hostility and other circumstances that make it hard to practice the faith. Please help as you are able. May you be blessed for your generosity to the Catholic Home Missions Appeal.

Come Away and Rest Awhile - Women's Midweek retreat May 12-14

Our 2015 Retreat Theme: "Come Away and Rest Awhile" will look at the broad idea of "holy leisure," reflecting upon the value and the importance of making space for ourselves and our God in our daily lives. What are practices that can help us preserve a space for spiritual sanity in our lives? How can we set healthy limits on ourselves? How can we respond to the expectations that we lay upon ourselves, as well as the expectations (sometimes unrealistic or unfair) that are placed upon us by others? What are some of the deep desires that we have and how have we addressed those desires or have we buried or forgotten them to assist others in fulfilling their desires? What are we really drawn to in our lives?

Welcome and orientation at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday May 12th. Depart Thursday after brunch. Check in early and enjoy a light supper with us if you want. The retreat includes opportunity for Confession and Spiritual Direction. All meals are cooked on site. Call to ask about our BUS transportation service for groups of 12 or more.
